This attractive dwelling has authentic cottage appeal with a welcome contemporary feel, it's open-plan layout creating a real sense of light and space. There's under-floor heating on the ground floor (standard radiators to first floor) and from the upper level are fine views of the Menai Strait and the Snowdonia mountains beyond. The interior is finished and presented to a particularly high standard, the attention to detail noteworthy and paramount to the overall feel. The cottage comes fully equipped with a quality kitchen with solid quartz worktops, built-in double oven, hob with extractor, dishwasher, fridge/freezer and wine chiller. Externally, there's a paved patio garden and 2 private parking spaces. In 1847 Lleiniog was a substantial farm of over 90 Acres (36.43 Hectares), forming part of the estate of the Right Honourable Lord Dinorben, farmed and occupied by Owen Jones and his family. The main dwelling is listed as a substantially sub-medieval house with significant surviving interior detail, the outbuildings also displaying much originality. The name Lleiniog first appears in the historical record in association with the medieval Castle Lleiniog or Aber Lleiniog, the ruins of which survive some 500m to the west of the present house.

The peaceful hamlet of Penmon is situated in a country setting close to the shoreline, towards the south eastern tip of the Isle of Anglesey with the fabulous Black Point Lighthouse and Puffin Island just a short distance away. Within roughly 1 mile lies the village of Llangoed which has local amenities of a convenience store, post office, public house and primary school with a greater range of services available in Beaumaris and Menai Bridge. From higher ground, the views towards the bay of Conwy and the Snowdonia mountains is quite dramatic. The historic town of Beaumaris boasts a castle dating back to 1295, a Victorian pier and promenade. You will also find quaint streets to explore and a wide variety of independent shops, taverns, restaurants, art galleries and antique outlets. The countryside within the vicinity is dotted with public footpaths including the Anglesey coastal path, allowing for opportunities to explore the fine coastline and fabulous scenery.
